NOTE FOR: John
FROM: Sheila
SUBJECT: Recruiting

I interviewed this morning [redacted]. He is at graduate school at Harvard Business School and has a Master's in education from Harvard. He is now working for [redacted]. His main interests are organizational behavior. He is doing private research and contract work for [redacted] about organizational processes and the lengths through which organizations influence each other. He seems far too academically bent to be reasonable prospect for us. I told him that I doubted that we would have any positions commensurate with his qualifications.
